*ICSA 2010 Meeting and Announcement

The Eighth ICOSA International Conference: Frontiers of Interdisciplinary and Methodological Statistical Research

Call for Contributed Papers

The 8th ICOSA International Conference will be held at Guangzhou University, China on December 19-22, 2010. Guangzhou University is located in Guangzhou city in Guangdong Province in Southern China.

This conference is co-sponsored by the American Statistical Association, the Chinese Association of Applied Statistics, the Chinese Society of Probability and Statistics, and the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, and International Society for Bayesian Analysis (ISBA), and jointly organized by the College of Mathematics and Information Science, Guangzhou University.

The program committee would like to invite contributed papers from the international statistics community. A submission should include a title, an abstract, and contact information (affiliation, position, email and fax) in English. Priorities will be given to submissions on topics related to the theme of the conference.

Submissions should be in pdf files and sent via email by September 1, 2010 to oicsa@icsa2.org with "ICSA 2010 Int Conf Contributed Paper Submission" in the subject line.

Scientific program committee:

Bin Yu (co-chair)

Zhiming Ma (co-chair)

ICSA 2010 Applied Statistics Symposium

The ICOSA 2010 Applied Statistics Symposium Program Committee (<http://www.icsa2.org/2010/>) is soliciting suggestions for invited paper sessions and luncheon table discussion for the ICOSA 2010 Applied Statistics Symposium to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana during June 20-23, 2010.

Symposium Highlights Keynote Speakers

Professor Donald Rubin, Department of Statistics, Harvard University

Professor Xihong Lin, Department of Biostatistics, Harvard University

Dr. Ji Zhang, Vice President, Sanofi-Aventis
Dr. Gregory Campbell, FDA

The 19th ICSA symposium organizing committee welcomes you to attend this event.
